

Hello Everyone!

What's New

I just wanted to take a moment and touch base with you. I hope you and your families are staying healthy.

The Royal College of Dental Surgeons has not been notified by the Medical Officer of Health about a specific return-to-work date for the health care sector. As soon as we get more definitive information I will pass it along.

Staying Connected

However, I want you to know that we are not closed, we are here for you and to help you either by an email “conversation” or an emergency appointment. We have done a lot of virtual appointments for our patients that have been terrific and highly successful.

If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to reach out to us.

Please check our COVID-19 updates on our Facebook page or website. They are great tools, which provide you with information.

Next Steps

With some hints that Ontario may begin to relax restrictions in the near future, we can anticipate that things will be speeding up! Certainly there will be no significant loosening of the current restriction before the middle of May.

The decision on when and how to open the dental offices for non-emergency procedures is in the power of the Chief Medical Officer of Health and the Government of Ontario.

Most importantly, when we can get back to our normal lives, we will continue to provide you with beautiful healthy smiles in a safe and healthy environment!

Please take good care of yourselves.

Christina
